on that day, the Chairman of the Monument Committee, Earl Melville Peck, after speaking of the consummation of the plans for the memorial, called upon Laura (Grinnell) Loomis, daughter of Francis and Jane Grinnell, and wife of Hiram Pease Loomis, to remove the flag of the United States with which the monument was veiled. The Prayer was offered by Reverend George S. Wendell, pastor of the Baptist Church of Honesdale, which was followed by an offering of laurel wreaths by young girls and boys, fourteen in number, representing the fifth and sixth generations of the families named on the tablet.

It was at the ceremonies at
